Youth of Today, Tomorrow, and the Future

Websites, Face Book, Twitter, e-mail and chat sessions. Parents can you keep up? Well if your answer is no I strongly suggest you think again. Some of these sites can be very grown-up and misleading. We encourage you to pay attention. On that note the Youth Ministry has decided to build a webpage that will give our youth positive information, help them make good choices and give them overall encouragement. The NVT youth department is using new technology to spread the word of Jesus, because our kids can always use more of Him. Our youth are precious and we want to instill positive values in them but we must do it in a way that is pleasing to Him and keeps their attention. By utilizing all we have we can make sure they are ready for what takes place today, prepare them for what will happen tomorrow and pray for their futures. With College around the corner for some and high school for others, lets make sure we are doing our part. Encourage a youth today!

District Meeting-Darlington Youth Night- "Opening Our Understanding"

The Youth will travel to Darlington for the Southern District New Covenant Fellowship District Meeting in October. We are very excited about this trip in particular as our very own Ashner Nelson will lead Praise and Worship along with the youth choir and Courtney Murray will give a special testimony. Our Youth Staff, Sis Erica and Sis Cushan will be teaching in workshops. All to take place on Saturday, October 23, 2010 at 7pm. The theme for the night is Opening Our Understanding. The youth will learn about the titles (i.e. Apostle, Evangelist, Missionary) we often call them, in hopes that they will one day walk in those shoes. The youth will also participate in workshops that will strengthen their understanding in God. We look to have a blessed time in the Lord.

NVT Youth Webpage

That's right, NVT Youth has a new web page. Were doing great things for Christ. This web page will have all sorts of encouragement for the youth. Watch out our youth are coming up in Jesus.

Parents if you have any encouraging, educating or fun thoughts for our youth, please turn them in to Sis Daliah so that it may become a part of our website.

The website will always hold information pertaining to district events, current news and much more. Our youth also have input on what their webpage has on it so again encourage them to turn those ideas in. We can't do this without the support of the church and parents.

Youth in the know...

About Money

Most of the lessons I learned about money were gained the hard way: by bouncing checks and accumulating thousands in credit card debt in college.

Now that I'm a parent, I don't want my kids to make those same kinds of mistakes -- or ask me for the kind of bailouts I asked my parents for. (Sorry, Mom and Dad. I'll spring for that cruise next year, OK?)

So how do we turn our kids into fiscally responsible individuals? Here are ideas for teaching them and what experts say kids should know about money.

By Melinda Fulmer

MSN Money

1. Teach children ages 3-5 about coins.
2. Teach the value of money and the basics of the stock market.
3. Encourage part-time jobs in ages 14-16.
4. Teach them how the banks work and encourage a habit of long term savings.
5. Teach them to manage credit and balance a checking account.
6. Most important, pay your tithes first.
